

News & Updates

---

See 'Sustainable' Sept. 18 @ 6p.m.

The future of our food system determines the future of mankind.

Join us for a live virtual screening. Details below.

SUSTAINABLE

'Sustainable' is a film about the land, the people who work it and what must be done to sustain it for future generations.

There is no hiding from the facts — rising temperatures, drought, soil loss, chemicals in our food, antibiotic resistance, declining bee populations, obesity, diabetes, shorter life expectancy — America needs help.

'Sustainable' reveals the crisis facing America's food system, and the community of leaders who are determined to fix it.

REGISTER

2nd screening with Youth Advisory Council

Join us after the film for a moderated discussion with the filmmaker and panelists in the local "good food" and food justice movements.

ONE EARTH
FILM FESTIVAL

Learn how schools and communities are increasing access to healthy and sustainable food. Steps are being taken towards equitable, sustainably-grown food access for all.

Attendees will also learn about concrete action opportunities related to the film. Participate in a raffle for a VIP ticket to the We Sow We Grow Summit.

Is Outdoor Ed outside-the-box thinking?

Read a recent op-ed in Crain's Chicago Business from local environmental advocate and Brooks Middle School science teacher, Laura Stamp.

"The benefits can't be overstated, especially in a pandemic."

READ MORE

"When cities ensure that residents have access to the resources necessary to compost, it makes a difference."

Register for Town Hall HERE.
Read more about composting as an act of resistance HERE.

GreenTown: Climate Crisis Webinar

Wednesday, September 23 &
Wednesday, September 30
Supported by Cook County

Spread the word about GreenTown: Climate Crisis

The event features a welcome address by Cook County Board President Toni Preckwinkle and a keynote by Jacqueline Patterson, Director of the NAACP Environmental and Climate Justice Program.

The webinar series will also host pre-event film screenings of "Cooked: Survival by Zip-Code" on Wednesday, Sept. 16 and "The Guardians" on Monday, Sept. 28, followed by panel discussions.

Explore GreenTown topics

Seven Generations Ahead Website

